STAR of the SEA

Our Mission is:
To evangelize God's people beginning with the gift of the Holy Eucharist

March 13, 2022 2nd Sunday of Lent (pg 112 red missal) - Second Sunday of Lent (Pg 330 black Latin missal)

St. Patrick and St. Joseph Thursday is the feast of St. Patrick, and Saturday is the feast of St. Joseph, two of the three patrons of our archdiocese (the third is, of course, San Francisco de Asis). To properly celebrate these First Class Feasts, we welcome Fr. Cameron Pollette back to his home parish to celebrate a St. Patrick's Mass at 6pm on March 17; Fr. Michael will take the 8:30am sung Mass in English on March 19, and Fr. Bill Young will offer a sung Mass in Latin at noon that same day. I will celebrate a wedding within a Mass of St. Joseph at 7pm that night, with congratulations to Jonah Wilamowski and Samantha Ross from our Young Adults. God bless you, dearest children, and I know you will have lots of children of your own! Their wedding reception will be rather modest, as this sterling couple had decided not to go into debt over an extravagant wedding, but it's not the only party on St. Joseph's Day. I invite you to our St. Patrick-St. Joseph's Day reception after both the 8:30am and noon Masses in the gym. St. Joseph's Table this year features traditional cream puffs, various breads, fruits, meats, cheeses, and drinks, thanks go to Mariella and Team St. Joseph's Day. You are all welcome to brunch or lunch on St. Patrick and St. Joseph this Saturday. Speaking of St. Patrick, I have decided (with some "warm" encouragement from our Irish parishioners) to erect a shrine to St. Patrick among our other saints and Madonnas. We thank a certain brogued benefactor who is providing a large statue of the good bishop.

Focus Missionaries Twenty-one FOCUS ("Fellowship of Catholic University Students") missionaries will be encamping in our gym this week, so give them a warm welcome. Mostly students from the University of Denver, they come with their priest, Fr. Mason Fraley, to serve the poor with Mother Teresa's sisters and our own Sunday Tenderloin street outreach.

The Way of Beauty Our parishioner, Bernadette Carstensen Cody (wife of Brendan Cody), has become a nationally-recognized artist, and we congratulate her on last week's fine article about her work in the National Catholic Register. Brendan and Bernadette's first child (of four) was the first to register in Stella Maris Academy last year, and a three-foot version of her lovely "Stella Maris" hangs above my mantle. I also recommend her portrait of "St. Joseph, Terror of Demons" for your home. Her website is: bernadettecarstensen.com. AAA A thousand thanks to those of you who made your annual gift in support of the Archbishop and his good works, especially our world-class seminary in Menlo Park. We are now at $103,000 in gifts, just $20,000 from bringing our impressive goal of $123,000 across the finish line. Who will bring us home? If you haven't yet made a gift, envelopes are available in the church, or you can give through our website homepage by scrolling down a bit. 40 Days For Life One of the best Lenten acts of charity is to pray an hour a week at the local abortion facility. Former Planned Parenthood workers have said no-show rates for abortion appointments go as high as 75% when people are peacefully praying outside. See page 3 to sign up. Fr. Joseph Illo

The Sunday Scriptures

By Fr. Joseph Illo (Gn 15:5-12, 17-18; Phil 3:17-4:1; Lk 9:28b-36) Transfigured God tells Abraham to look up into the night sky, at the billions of stars above him. "Just so shall your inheritance be" he tells our "Father in Faith." Jesus takes his three favorite disciples up a mountain, and they look up to see Him transfigured. We were never meant to be on earth forever. We are meant for heaven, transfigured. Look to things above.

EUCHARISTIC ADORATION

St. Louie and Zélie Martin would spend about an hour with Jesus in the Eucharist each day and the times Zélie was away due to childbirth, only increased her thirst for Christ. That thirst was, undoubtedly, a cause for her deep joy and peace. St. Zélie's faith is captured in a letter to her brother. "Let's put it into the hands of God because He knows much better than we do what we need"
